Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

No registration required; it is also possible to attend individual sessions only, but students / participants and in particular the presenters are encouraged to attend the colloquium regularly.

NOTE:

Participation in the research colloquium is open to all students who are interested in the subject matter (irrespective of program, field of specialization, or semester). For MA students, who are writing or planning to write a thesis under either Prof. Ronan's or Prof. Buschfeld's supervision, regular participation in this class is strongly recommended, while working on the project or even some time before embarking on such a project. The series of lectures is also meant to provide stimuli and ideas for possible topics as well as insights into research methods of linguistics and possible ways of handling a topic and language data.
